Unusual Wedding Locations

There are locations all over the world that are very common for people to get married at, how about these ones?. Here are some of the places couples really enjoy going too.

Their Back Yard

This may not be the best of looking of places to actually get married at but it is something many people do because it is cheap, easy and there are lot of people that can attend, getting married in the garden could be a very good thing indeed. Just because this option is actually a cheap one it does not mean it cannot be the best. The great thing about this is that your family can continue to party into the night without worrying about the venue having to close or something like this.

Disneyworld

There seem to be so many people out there that either get married at this place or have their honeymoon here. You can really see why people do this, it is a great place to visit. If something you have always wanted to do is get married in the front of Cinderella castle you are going to have to pay a lot for it. By a lot of money we are talking way over 10,000 dollars! If you have the money for this kind of thing that this is something worth doing.

A Boat

Believe it or not, this is the common one when it comes to the list which is a shame because it is a fantastic place. Of course a boat is not going to be big enough you need something like a yacht for a wedding and this makes it awesome.

So along with that wedding photography and wedding photography Hampshire why not look into getting married somewhere a bit different when it comes to the big day? Go on, leave the serviced offices and get married.
